SMI Adviser is a free program funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration and administered by the American Psychiatric Association.

Our mission is to advance the use of a person-centered approach to care that ensures people who have serious mental illness (SMI) find the treatment and support they need.

SMI Adviser supports real-world clinical practice with:

Consultations

All mental health professionals – psychiatrists, psychiatric nurses, social workers, psychologists, counselors, and peer specialists – can request consultations and receive guidance from experts in SMI. This service is available to ALL mental health clinicians and is completely FREE.

Ask our SMI experts about psychopharmacology, therapies, recovery supports, patient and family engagement, education, and more. Visit SMIadviser.org/submit-consult.

Knowledge Base

Browse our database with hundreds of clinical questions about SMI. Find answers that enhance your practice and help provide the best care for individuals who have SMI.
